

Salary Finance Partnership with Workday

As an Emerging Partner with Workday, Salary Finance has an API integration that seamlessly automates the administration of the Salary Finance benefit for Workday clients.

This Workday integration ensures that your HR and Employee Benefits teams do not need to do any manual work to give their employees full access to Salary Finance's financial wellness products, including emergency savings accounts and low-cost employee loans. When an employee applies for a savings account or a salary-linked loan, the Workday API automatically and securely verifies their identity, employment and income.

Emerging
Partner

Salary Finance is the only employment-based lender that is an official Workday partner, giving us access to technical and development support for our integration that other financial wellness providers don't have.

Advantages of using the Salary Finance Workday API integration:

Most secure form of data transfer keeps employee data safe: data is only transferred for those employees who apply for Salary Finance

No ongoing administrative effort required from your team - set it and forget it!

Instant validation of employee data makes for the optimal employee experience, getting them the financial assistance they need faster

Best of all? The easy, one-time setup process in your Workday application takes only one hour (or less!)

Request more information about the integration